205. Bernard Leach, CH, CBE, (British, 1887-1979) The Pagoda £150-£250

Motif Design for a St Ives Studio Pottery Plate

Pen and ink on paper

Signed with monogram 'BL' (lower left)

Gilt framed and glazed

53.5cm x 43.5cm (framed)

The Pagoda Motif: Leach frequently used a stylised pagoda as a 'graphic' image, created with simple, rhythmic brush strokes or slip-trailed detailing. This design often appears on - tiles: Individual stoneware tiles featuring a single pagoda were a recurring part of his output; chargers and bowls: large 'Pagoda Bowls' (such as those from 1954) feature the motif in the well, often executed in iron glaze or white slip; standard ware: the design was occasionally applied to smaller functional pieces, such as standard ware bowls produced at the Leach Pottery in St Ives.
